TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Re : Alessandro Romano

Alessandro Romano has worked at King Valley wines during the 2018 vintage harvest season from February until April.

During this time Alessandro has proved himself to be extremely polite, hard working, intelligent about his work, and displayed good communication skills quietly going about his work with a minimum of fuss.

His role working in the general cellar has been varied with no problems in his picking up new tasks and carrying them out efficiently with a minimum of training.

Alessandro has approached his work in a professional and cheerful manner that has made what at times has been a busy and stressful time work more smoothly.

In his time at King Valley Wines Alessandro has been a great team member helping others where needed and accepting any role he has been given.

I have no hesitation in recommending Alessandro to other employers as an intelligent young wine industry professional and would / will seek to re employ him in the future should he wish to return to Australia for another vintage.

Yours sincerely

Garry Wall
CEO/ Chief Winemaker
